

The perfect break from winter: Discover colourful reefs, enchanting colonial ports and the varied cultures of the Caribbean.

Snorkellers' paradise in the Tobago Cays

For many, life under water is a fascinating world – one that becomes even more magical the closer you get. The Tobago Cays' Horseshoe Reef is such a place. This horseshoe-shaped coral reef encloses four small islands that glow in rich shades of green. The sea, in contrast, embraces turquoise, emerald and every shade of blue.

Grenada – the island of spice

Although Grenada has been blessed with around 45 picture-perfect beaches, the country's real treasure remains its lush, green island interior. Deep volcanic lakes, dense rainforests, waterfalls and small river courses form the primordial backdrop for the island's sugar cane fields and spice plantations. Not surprising that the scent of cloves, cinnamon and nutmeg hangs in the air wherever you go on Grenada.

A multicoloured trio: the ABC islands

Aruba, Bonaire and Curaçao – these three islands off the coast of Venezuela might mark the start to a Caribbean alphabet. Aruba's "A" could also stand for aloe: For many years, the lively island was the world's largest exporter of this medicinal plant. While the divers' paradise Bonaire displays its blaze of colours mostly underwater, Curaçao or "Little Amsterdam" enchants visitors with its colonial architecture in a variety of pretty pastels.

Idyllic sailing along the trade winds

Throughout winter and spring, the Caribbean trade winds provide ideal speeds and perfect stability while delivering extremely pleasant air and water temperatures. The many hours out at sea are a real joy for the tall ship and a delight for those looking to enjoy the freedom beneath the sails. All this in stunning waters.

Cartagena's colonial centre

When in the old days, the Spanish fleet entered the port twice a year to sell weapons and horses and load gold, silver and gems, all of Cartagena was out and about. Founded in 1533, the historic town exudes the flair of colonial times until today. With its colourful houses, Andalusian palaces and numerous churches, the historical centre is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

A lecturer accompanies the trip

Knowledge, entertainment and facts – our expert is on hand to give talks on a wide variety of specialist subjects. He will also be on board to answer any questions that you may have.
